Stinson has established a Coronavirus Task Force in support of short and long-term business needs as COVID-19, commonly known as coronavirus, impacts companies and affects workforces and the global supply chain. The task force provides subject matter authorities as a quick-response team with current, authoritative legal guidance on the ever changing aspects of how COVID-19 impacts business.

From the onset of the virus, Stinson attorneys have been supporting clients with up-to-date and coordinated legal guidance and timely alerts on the legal issues surrounding this virus. As business leaders make decisions affecting customers, employees and communities, the task force provides creative, strategic guidance to clients on immediate and forward planning needs.

The Coronavirus Task Force leverages Stinson’s bench strength of nearly 500 attorneys across 13 locations.
